The New Secretaries Qualify and Take Possession.

Favorable Reception of the Nomination of Gen. Black.

The New Secretaries Qualify

WASHINGTON, March 7. Promptly at 12 o'clock four of President Cleveland's cabinet, Bayard, Whitney, Endicott and Garland, entered the office of the secretary of state. Mrs. Endicott, wife of the new secretary of war, accompanied the party, as did also Justice Field, of the U. S. supreme court. Immediately after entering Bayard took the oath of office, which was administered by Justice Field. Secretary Frelinghuysen and ex-Assistant Secretary Davis were present, also Senator Payne of Ohio and ex-Attorney General Pierrepont. The party then went to the room occupied by Secretary Chandler, where Whitney took the oath of office as secretary of the navy. In Secretary Lincoln's office, where Lieut. General Sheridan and staff and other officers of the war department had assembled, the oath was administered to Endicott. Mrs. Endicott entered the room on the arm of Bayard. As soon as Justice Field had administered the oath the various army officers were in turn introduced to the new secretary by Mr. Lincoln. Attorney General Garland was sworn into office at the department of justice. The oath was administered by Justice Field in the presence of ex Attorney General Brewster, Secretaries Bayard, Manning, Whitney, Endicott, and Lamar and a few others. Brewster will continue to act as attorney general until Monday, when he will formally present his successor to the U. S. supreme court. The party proceeded from the department of justice to the treasury department, where the oath of office was administered to Secretary Manning. In addition to those already named there were present ex Secretary McCulloch, Assistant Secretary Coon, W. H Barnum of Connecticut, Smith M. Weed of New York, and many others, including several ladies. Soon after Secretary Manning had qualified all the bureau officers and chiefs of divisions visited his office and paid their respects.

Postmaster General Vilas and Secretary Lamar also took the oath of office and entered upon the discharge of their duties. There was little formality in the ceremony in either case. The oath was administered by Justice Field in the presence of Secretary Bayard, Attorney General Garland and others.

The Secretaries' Farewell.

WASHINGTON, March 7. In the state, war and navy department buildings this morning the retiring secretaries bade the chiefs and clerks who served under them good-bye, and complimented them on their services. Secretaries Frelinghuysen and Lincoln, called on their subordinates in the offices which the heads of the state and war departments have occupied. Chandler called on his subordinates in their respective rooms. No official business of any character was transacted by the retiring cabinet prior to the incoming secretaries taking the oath of office. The building was filled with visitors. Congressman-elect Wheeler, of Alabama, headed a delegation that entered the department occupied by the secretary of the navy. The members of the delegation were men above the average size, numbering about a dozen. They were introduced to the retiring secretary, every one as a general or a colonel. Chandler, a man small in stature, quietly folded his hands in front of him and plaintively remarked, "Gentlemen, give me time to pray," when he turned to Whitney and was about to ask "Where are the judges?" He found the congressman-elect had left the room for a moment, but he soon returned with four Alabamians, to all of whom he gave the title "judge." A general laugh followed and the party then engaged in conversation.

The Funds Transferred

WASHINGTON, March 7. The formal transfer of the treasury department from ex-Secretary McCulloch to Secretary Manning took place this morning. The new secretary was escorted to the department by the retiring secretary, who called at his house for him. Soon after their arrival Mr. McCulloch presented Assistant Secretaries French and Coon to the secretary. Mr. Manning, who had not yet taken the oath, said he would probably qualify during the day, but as he did not propose to enter actively into the business of the office until Monday he requested Assistant Secretary Coon to sign the mail for him today as acting secretary. Mr. Manning and Mr. McCulloch then retired to the secretary's private office and remained closeted together several hours, talking over the business and personnel of the department. A large number of persons called to pay their respects to the new secretary but were denied admission.

Secretary McCulloch said yesterday in speaking of the change in administration that he took it for granted Mr. Manning shared the views of President Cleveland on the question of finance. And as the president's views on that subject were in accord with his own he did not anticipate any change in the present policy of the government.

Grant's Commission.

WASHINGTON, March 7. When the commission was made out for the appointment of General Grant on the retired list, Secretary Lincoln retained it at the war department thinking it proper that the new secretary should be given an opportunity to countersign it after its signature by the president. Yesterday morning the president sent for it in order that there might be no delay in making the appointment. Secretary Lincoln took the commission to the executive mansion in person and handed it to the president, remarking that he had not acted on it because he thought Judge Endicott would be pleased to attend to it when his first official duties began. "That was very thoughtful in you, Mr. Lincoln," observed the president. "I have no doubt it would be a pleasure to Judge Endicott. Still I will sign it myself that there may be no delay and then Judge Endicott can countersign it." President Cleveland thereupon affixed his signature. The commission, after the official record was made, was returned to the war department. This morning it was on the desk of the new secretary of war and the first official act of Secretary Endicott was to countersign it.

A Practical Civil Service Reformer.

WASHINGTON, March 7. Secretary Lamar received a great number of congratulatory calls to-day. The commissioner of the general land office, the commissioner of Indian affairs and the commissioner of pensions had prepared their resignations, but at the secretary's request deferred presenting them until Monday. One of Secretary Lamar's first official acts was to reinstate Mr. Hanna as private secretary to the secretary of the interior, which position he had held under Secretaries Schurz and Teller. From remarks that have been made by the new secretary it is evidently his intention to adopt a very conservative course in making changes in the personnel of the interior department and he is said to be thoroughly in sympathy with President Cleveland's views upon civil service principles.

Postmaster-General Vilas also received a number of callers, but left the department early in the afternoon, thus preventing the assistant postmaster generals from presenting their resignations.

Hazen's Court Martial

WASHINGTON, March 7. It is understood General Hazen has written a letter to the new secretary of war asking that no steps be taken to dissolve the court martial recently ordered to try that official (it having been intimated that such action would be taken by President Cleveland), and requesting that he may be tried in justice to himself.

It is understood Judge T. J. Mackey, counsel for General Hazen, will challenge all the members of the court martial to convene Wednesday next for the trial of that officer, on the ground that the late secretary of war brought a charge of disrespect to himself and he (the accuser) at the same time made the detail for the court, which legally taints its character as a judicial body.

The President's Callers

WASHINGTON, March 7. The rush of visitors to the White House continued to day with no apparent decrease in number. The majority merely called to pay their respects to the president but many came on business. There were several delegations, including one from Missouri headed by Senators Cockrell and Vest; another from Texas, headed by Senator Coke, and others from Kansas and Colorado. Among the callers were Vice President Hendricks, Senator Voorhees and Judge N. Nibler, Secretaries Bayard and Manning, Attorney General Garland, Postmaster General Vilas, ex-Secretary McCulloch and Belford of Colorado.

A Popular Appointment.

WASHINGTON, March 7. Correspondence sent by the associated press from Chicago announcing the appointment of Gen. Black as commissioner of pensions has developed the fact that President Cleveland has made a popular selection. The appointment is well received in all quarters and it is said the general will be asked to assume the duties of the office at an early day.

Notice to the Hungry.

WASHINGTON, March 7. The president has notified his private secretary that he does not propose to receive persons who call in regard to appointments, as he is desirous that all applications of that character shall be acted upon by the heads of the departments to which they belong.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, March 7. Money easy, 1 to 1½, closing 1; prime paper 4 to 5; sterling exchange dull, 4.83½, demand 4.86; government dull, unchanged; railways quiet, steady; state securities dull. The effect of the weakness in the stock market late yesterday has had no apparent effect upon to-day's prices. Both bulls and bears express surprise at the strength developed in early transactions, the advance over last evening's final quotations in the first prices this morning amounting to ⅛ to ⅜ per cent, from which there were further gains in the first hour. This was followed by fractional declines, then another slight advance and then a dull and steady market until after two o'clock when large buying orders appeared for Lackawanna and New York Central, and the highest prices reported for the former since the early part of December were established. The principal feature of the market was the manipulation of Lackawanna. Transactions 211,000 shares.

The Boomers' Plans.

WICHITA, March 7. Captain Couch and General Hatch have both gone to the border from this city, the former to confer with colonists assembling there, and the latter to station his troops to prevent the contemplated movement upon Oklahoma. It is said the boomers will start Wednesday next.

ARKANSAS CITY, March 7. Capt. Couch held a meeting at the camp this afternoon. There were fully one thousand present. As he and others have to appear in Wichita next Monday it was decided to postpone their departure for Oklahoma until Wednesday. He said they expected either to be bound over to the September term or be acquitted at once. As this case comes before Judge Foster, who it will be remembered decided one case in their favor, they may be acquitted. Several telegrams have been received by the leaders notifying them of the readiness of other colonies to move. Companies "E," "F" and "H" of the Ninth cavalry are stationed at Chilacco, six miles from here, where they will be joined by companies "B" and "M" from Ponca and "K" from Fort Sill.

Unhealthy for Crooks

NEGAUNEE, Mich., March 7.—Deputy Sheriff Kohl, who was shot by Patsy Benan, Thursday night, died this morning. "The Carp," the house of prostitution where Benan was stopping, was burned yesterday and the inmates, ten in number, taken in custody by the sheriff. Five hundred armed men are scouring the woods for Benan, and unless he is captured his whole gang will be lynched. A reign of terror prevails which causes crooks to hurry from the city.

RAILROAD STRIKES.

Missouri Pacific Employes Strike Against a Cut.

No Improvement in the Situation on the Texas Pacific.

Oklahoma Boomers Preparing for Another Raid.

The Railroad Strikes.

ST. LOUIS, March 7. The situation regarding the railroad strike here remains unchanged. The few men who left the Wabash repair shops a few days ago still remain out, but their places are generally filled, and the affair is considered a trifling one by officers of the road.

No action has been taken here by Missouri Pacific employes with a view to joining the strikers in Texas, and business is going on as usual with the exception that perishable freight is not being taken for points in Texas. All passenger trains are moving regularly.

SEDALIA, Mo., March 7. A special from Parsons, Kansas, to the Bazoo says: All employes of the Pacific shops went out on a strike at three o'clock this afternoon. No freight trains will be permitted to move. Passenger trains will be allowed to run for the present, but if the strikers think it necessary to carry their point they will cut off everything but the mail car. Three hundred men are in the strike. All quiet.

GALVESTON, Texas, March 7. The News Marshall, Texas, special says: It is all quiet among striking railroad employes to-day. At a meeting this evening the strikers rescinded the resolution notifying Superintendent Haynes that he must leave town in 24 hours. Otherwise both sides remain apparently as firm as on the first day. At Longview the strikers are firm and maintain good discipline. They stopped five more freights to-day coming from the direction of Palestine. The side tracks are covered with cars.

GALVESTON, March 7. The News Dallas special says: The strike proceeds quietly. The news that machinists at Parsons, Kas., and Sedalia, Mo., quit work this afternoon encouraged the strikers here. Two freight trains arrived to-day. Both were side tracked by the strikers and the fires drawn from the engines. The strikers notified the Texas Central road if they send engines over the Missouri Pacific track for the purpose of assisting the latter company in moving its cars, such relief engines will certainly be seized and temporarily disabled.

Delegates from striking workmen at Parsons arrived this evening and are quietly confering with the strikers to-night. A dozen of strikers at the shop keep steam and fire in readiness to extinguish fire.

Reports from strikers at Marshall, Longview, Palestine and Fort Worth show no signs of weakening.

The News' Fort Worth special says: The railroad strike continues the all-absorbing topic. Early this morning the sheriff visited the company's yard and offered to protect any one who would go to work. Some little shifting of cars was done, when the strikers persuaded the men to desist and join the strikers. Later several officials visited the county attorney to make complaint against certain strikers, but when asked to swear to the complaint they weakened and refused to swear. This relieves the city officials.

A mass meeting held at the court house tonight, pursuant to the call of Mayor Smith, was largely attended by strikers and other citizens. Speeches were made on both sides. The strikers were firm and defiant, while a number of business men openly avowed sympathy with the cause. The result of the meeting was the appointment of a committee of five leading citizens to join with a similar committee of strikers in a united effort to induce the managers of the Gould syste to restore wages to figures before the recent cut. The spokesman for the strikers said they would turn over any freight in the yards consigned to Fort Worth merchants. The strikers are being strengthened daily. The final outcome or solution of the difficulties seems farther away than at the beginning of the week.

ATCHISON, Ks., March 7. Shop employes of the Missouri Pacific railroad at this place went out at 10 to-night. The strikers number between two and three hundred and are well organized. They have stopped freight trains, but will not interfere with passenger trains. Their demands are restoration of of wages to figures previous to the last cut. Good order prevails.

Colorado Legislature.

DENVER, March 7. The senate was not in session.

In the house the committee on appropriations reported in favor of house bills Nos 344, 335, and against House bills Nos. 73, 171, 47, 154, 291, 280 and 366.

The committee on stock reported in favor of senate bills 73 and 71.

The committee on forestry reported in favor of H. J. M No. 4 and S. B. No. 309.

The committee on judiciary reported in favor of H. Bs. Nos 293, 44 and 65.

The committee on public buildings reported in favor of H. Bs. Nos. 10 and 29. Both bills were referred to the committee on appropriations.

Speaker Stuart called attention to the fact that the house is behind in its work, and that the five minutes rule for speeches on debate could be enforced to advantage.

Mr. Bergh offered a resolution amending house rule 15 so as to limit speeches to five minutes, excepting those of chairmen of committees, unless where leave is given. Adopted.

Mr. Gilmore presented a resolution instructing the clerk to put abbreviations on the calendar showing the recommendations on bills. Adopted.

S. B Nos. 178, 179 and 183 were read the first time.

H. B. No. 59, by Mr. Gilmore, in relation to subpœnas, was read the third time and passed with emergency clause attached.

H. B. No. 162, fixing the state treasurer's bond at $1,000,000, was passed; also, H. B. No. 15, for sending ballot boxes to the county seat by mail; also, H. B. No. 310, requiring employers to furnish seats for females employed in stores.

The house, on motion of Mr. Bergh, went into committee of the whole on the general order. Mr. Bergh was called to the chair.

S. B. No. 25, to repeal the hawk head bounty, was read by title, and on motion of Mr. Quillian was postponed indefinitely, on account of the matter having been embraced in a bill already adopted.

H. J. M. No. 7, by Mr. Stuart, asking for a more simple and expeditious means of obtaining a patent, the $500 development work to be done away with, the miner to be required merely to sink a ten-foot hole before obtaining a patent.

The bill had been recommended for indefinite postponement, and after some debate Mr. Stuart yielded to the other members and the bill was killed.

The house then proceeded to take up the new Denver charter, but the amendments not having been printed the matter was postponed until 2 p. m.

H B. No 42, giving right of way across lands for drainage, was approved.

The house then went into secret session on house expenditures, and then took a recess until 2 p. m.

The house went into committee of the whole on the general order, on reassembling at 2 p. m., with Mr Bucklin in the chair.

S. B. 177, by Senator Tilford, was taken up and read the third time.

The Arapahoe county delegation offered a large number of amendments to the bill, which were adopted. The first amendment was to change the number of supervisors from nine to five. All resolutions or contracts requiring the expenditure of a sum of money shall be sent to the mayor for his approval within twenty-four hours.

Section 15 was amended so as to allow a majority of members of either body to compel the mayor to call a special meeting of the boards. The salary of the water commissioner is fixed at $1,500 a year. Members of the council are to be elected the first Tuesday in April of 1885 instead of 1886, as in the original bill, which reduces the number of the lower board to nine and puts out all of the present aldermen.

At the conclusion of the reading of the bill, which occupied two hours, Mr. Kohn moved as amendments additional to those already reported by the Arapahoe delegation that the presidents of the board of supervisors and board of aldermen be paid an additional sum of $400 per year each, and to cut down qualifications of members of the council from being free holders for two years to being taxpayers for one year.

Mr. Ferguson moved to strike out the reference to the office of water commissioner from the bill.

This caused some contention among the Arapahoe county members, Mr. Suess holding that the amendment would not effect the purpose intended. This view was quite generally concurred in and a motion was made that the bill be referred back to the Arapahoe delegation. The delegation voted on this and it carried by a vote of 5 to 3. The delegation then left to confer for a few minutes and went out.

Mr. Lewis moved that the house go into committee of the whole on H. B. 172. Carried.

Mr. Chapman was called to the chair. The bill, which was introduced by Lewis, requires managers, owners and operators of railroads and telegraph lines to report to the state board of equalization the extent and value of their property, which shall be assessed by the state board.

On motion of Mr. Silman the committee reported the bill back with the recommendation that it lie on the table. It being claimed that the senate had passed a bill covering the matters aimed at in this bill.

The Arapahoe delegation reported that the question on which it had been retired had been settled and the proposed amendment would be withdrawn by Mr. Ferguson.

Mr. Pence moved to reconsider the amendment offered by Mr. Kohn doing away with property qualifications for aldermen. He believed that the adoption of the amendment had been hasty and ill-advised.

Mr. Dormer opposed the amendment. He did not believe that 5,000 honest, intelligent citizens should be deprived of the right to be aldermen while they were free to run for congress. There were hundreds of men in the city, professional men, as well fitted to fill far higher positions than that of alderman, which certainly could not be considered a highly honorable one when the record of past councils was taken into consideration. The proposal to insert a property qualification had originated with the chamber of commerce, which contained only 400 members all told, and of these not more than 75 were present when it was decided to ask for property qualification. Would not this be legislating to give power to a few who had succeeded in life as against those who had not been so fortunate? The parade of a few weeks ago, which was terrible in some of its aspects, was of men who had rights which they were entitled to represent anywhere, and it was proposed to cut those men off from membership in the council by reason of this property qualification.

Mr. Ferguson opposed the motion of Mr. Pence. He could see no means by which a citizen of Rico could be affected by the amendment.

Mr. Pence spoke in reply. He would go as far as any member of the house in extending courtesies to members from any special section of the state, and would surrender as many of his rights in such matters as any member on the floor, but he would like to know of any reason for making a change from the bill as passed by the senate.

Mr. Ferguson replied to Mr. Pence, after which a vote was taken and Mr. Pence's motion was defeated.

Mr. Kohn also spoke briefly on the motion.

The bill was then put upon its final passage and was agreed to by a unanimous vote with an emergency clause attached.

On motion of Mr. Dickson the house then adjourned to 10 a. m. Monday.

Mysterious Poisoning.

DAMOURE, Dak., March 7. A mysterious and fatal case of poisoning occurred in the family of Joseph Hall, six miles south of here. Hall and his wife and three children retired at the usual hour in good health. He had arranged to ride into town with a neighbor this morning. When the latter called he found Hall unconscious, but the woman and one child aged 5 were dead. Physicians can not tell what caused the trouble. Hall's face is terribly swollen and discolored. Doctors think they will all die.

FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

The Soudan War Troops Arriving at Suakim.

Preparing for Another Attack on Gladstone's Government.

The Views of a French Deputy on the Silver Crisis.

The Campaign in Egypt.

LONDON, March 7. The North Pacific and Australian fleets will be reinforced. As a result of a conference with the agents general of the colonies at the war office the government will rely upon receiving contingents from Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Transports on the way to Suakim with guards, etc., are detained at Suez awaiting General Greaves' report regarding the water supply at Suakim. General Graham's health keeps him at Cairo. He has been placed on the invalid list and advised to return to England. General Greaves will probably succeed him in command of the Suakim expedition.

The advance beyond Sinkat is not intended until autumn. The intention is to encamp the main body at Sinkat during the hot weather, the site selected being 3,000 feet above sea level and three days journey from Suakim. A successful battle with Osman Digna will have to be fought before the camp can be safely established.

Under Secretary Fowler sent a letter to his constituents at Wolverhampton defending the purchase of American pumping engines for the Berber railway on the ground that the contracting firm had experience in supplying the pumps wanted and had a number ready for shipment. Tenders will be issued to English firms for pumping machinery for the remainder of the line.

General Wolseley proposes constant change of position of the troops on the Nile. Enteric disease is rife among the men inactive at Korti. The health of Gen. Brackenbury's and General Buller's men, doing active work, is splendid.

SUAKIM, March 7.—Hostile Arabs at Tamai are becoming alarmed at the number of ships arriving. The Amerar tribe is ready to desert Osman Digna whenever an opportunity presents. Food is scarce and has been. The Arabs are sending their women and cattle into the mountains.

SUAKIM, March 7. Steamers are arriving daily with reinforcements. To-day six transports anchored here, having on board a body of engineers, the commissariat corps, a detachment to conduct balloon operations, the medical contingent and transport corps. The transports also brought a number of horses and mules as well as supplies of various kinds for the garrison.

Buller's Retreat.

LONDON, March 7. A dispatch from Korti states that the retreat of General Buller's troops from Gakdul to Korti was a forced march of the most toilsome kind—the hot southerly winds, which begin about this time of the year, and usually last fifty days, prevail during the whole march and prostrated many men and animals. The men also suffered terribly from thirst and from the effects of the hot sand being blown into their eyes. The Hassenyeh tribes with a large number of Arab sharpshooters from the Mahdi's troops at Berber assembled at various points along the line of retreat and harassed the British column by continual firing at long range. The attacks were most frequent at night when their fire could not be effectually returned.

Another Attack on Gladstone.

LONDON, March 7. The Commons has postponed until after the holidays the discussion of Rand's motion to censure the government for the condition of the navy. The tories now hope to attack the government with success, as the deficit in the budget between revenue and expenditure of the current year has been ascertained to be £1,500,000. An equal deficit is anticipated for next year, owing to increased war estimates. The chancellor of the exchequer will be obliged to admit that expenses next year will exceed the revenue by ten million pounds. The cabinet rejected a plan to meet the deficit by increased duties on beer and tea. The chancellor of the exchequer and Gladstone are in favor of suspension of the sinking fund and increase in the income tax and succession duties. Negotiations of government agents and Parnellites, the government offering to limit the operation of the crimes act to one year, have been broken off. Parnellites refused the offer. The government now proposes extension of the crimes act two years.

Granville's Explanation.

PARIS, March 7. A majority of the newspapers consider the speech made by Granville in the lords last evening in explanation of England's attitude in the Bismarck controversy was an act of humiliation unworthy a great nation like England.

Parnell's Purpose.

LONDON, March 7. Parnell has intimated to the government that Irish members of parliament will strenuously oppose the clauses of the crimes act dealing with newspapers, the suppression of public meetings and private inquisitions.

Silver in Europe.

PARIS, March 7. In the chamber of deputies M. Soubeyran questioned the government regarding the monetary circulars. He pointed out the danger of allowing silver to be idle. He said Germany's futile attempt to demonetize silver after the war of 1820 showed the necessity of admitting the principle of bimetallism. He believed the financial crisis arose from the paucity of silver in circulation and predicted depreciation in the value of silver, and such commercial difficulties would follow the suspension of silver coinage in America. The only remedy for the present troubles was to restore the circulation of silver on a wide basis. He moved the resumption of negotiations for the speedy meeting of a monetary conference.

The minister of finance admitted the advantage of bimetallism, but pointed out the difficulty to its attainment. He said he would consider whether it was possible to demand the reassembling of the conference of 1881. Owing to the divergence of the views of the powers he had little hope of succeeding. He asked the withdrawal of the motion as inopportune. Soubeyran consented.

Italy's Silver.

ROME, March 7. The Italian government threatens to terminate the Latin monetary union unless concessions are made to enable Italy to coin a certain amount of silver. The treasury holds 25,000,000 francs in silver of the old Bourbon government. It is desired to recoin it in five franc and lire pieces.

Colliery Horrors.

LONDON, March 7. The colliery at Sunderland, in which an explosion from fire damp occurred on the 3d instant, imprisoning 150 men, 16 of whom were subsequently taken out dead, is now afire. Further search is stopped.

One hundred and twenty-three of the 147 men in the colliery at Hamm, Anglian Silesia, at the time of the explosion yesterday have been found dead. But five have thus far been rescued alive.

The Trouble with Russia.

LONDON, March 7.—The Marquis of Lorne, last night, in a speech ridiculed the idea of an approaching war with Russia and said "All would be peacefully settled." The Observer understands that the government on Friday sent an emphatic demand to St. Petersburg for the withdrawal of Russians from Afghan territory. The dispatch, the Observer says, partook of the character of an ultimatum.

Spring Sports

DENVER, March 7. The spring meeting of the Denver Jockey club will occur at Jerome park May 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th and 29th. The purses aggregate $5000.

The Pueblo Jockey club will hold its spring meeting on May 19th, 20th and 21st. The purses aggregate $3000.

Skate -- You Please.

NEW YORK, March 7. The score of competitors in the roller skating match at 10 this morning was: Donovan 1,043 miles, Boyst 988, Omelia 964, Maddock 964, Schock 905. Donovan completed 1,000 miles between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning, and the garden rang with cheers and applause. With one exception Donovan had at that time eclipsed the longest distance ever accomplished by a human being in six days in any mode of locomotion that required physical exertion the exception was the six-day bicycle record of Charles Torrent in England, who made 1,323 miles.

In the roller skating tournament the "spurt" of Meyer and Calhoun this afternoon was the event of the day. The rest to whom they showed was astonishing. The garden was very well filled, many spectators being school children. Walton came on soon after Calhoun and Meyer "let up," and after a round or two gave another exhibition of speed. He passed the Indian like skaters like a flash. Calhoun was tempted to pursue but Walton soon shook him off. Omelia's condition at 3 o'clock was a sad one. The score at 7 p. m. was: Donovan 1,083, Boyst 1,032, Omelia 1,017, Maddock 1,000, Schock 942, Allen 845, Johnson 842, Calhoun 821, Meyers 821.

NEW YORK, March 7. Three thousand people attended during the evening. Walton, Boyst, Maddock, Omelia and Robinson spurted on the track, and at 10.15 Chief-in Williams turned the clock back to 12 midnight. The band played "Home, Sweet Home." The scorers gathered their score sheets, finding there was to be no more skating, and several hundred people sat by and wondered when the end would be. There was no "wind up," as in old pedestrian contests the winner, Donovan, receives the $250 medal and $50; Boyst $250; Omelia $150; and Maddock $100, and the remainder of those who finished $50 each. It is stated the winner, Donovan, has worn his stockings several days and that the feet at the finish pressed through the texture until the boy's limbs were in a sad condition. He was thus handicapped, should his foot be dressed, he would be unable to resume.

Following is the score of those remaining on the track at the conclusion: Donovan 1,092 miles, Boyst 1,045, Omelia 1,032, Maddock 1,000, Schock 950, Johnson 859, Allen 859, Calhoun 850, Meyer 833, Ward 805, Walton 701.

W. C. T. U. Resolutions.

At the last regular meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of this city the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we extend our hearty sympathy to all workers in the temperance cause in our city, including the editors of our daily papers who have spoken favorably in favor of the enforcement of our ordinances.

Resolved, That we view with serious apprehension the proposition introduced into our city council favoring the sale of liquor in packages; and we enter our earnest protest against it as a step in the wrong direction and calculated to facilitate and increase the quantity of liquor sold and drank in our midst.

Manager of the GAZETTE.

President Cleveland is already proving a disappointment to the democratic office seekers in Washington.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union has adopted a resolution opposing any modification of the liquor ordinance. If this law is the best, why can it not be enforced?

It is requested that the legislature appropriate $10,000 to pay for the expenses connected with calling a bimetallic national congress. It should not pass. All the money needed can be raised by private subscription.

The New York Tribune has continually asserted that silver is driving gold out of circulation. This has heretofore been an unsupported statement as no relation has been shown between cause and effect. But on the 3d inst. it solemnly stated that "many millions" of gold have been sent to Europe for safe keeping. We are glad that the Tribune has substantiated something, even if in doing so it has proven some people are very foolish.

The Tribune-Republican and the Denver News were justly severe on the legislature yesterday for its reckless and extravagant expenditure of the public funds. The state finances are now in a very critical condition. There is a large floating debt and reckless and increased expenditure of money. The present legislature will cost at least three times what any previous legislature has. Besides it proposes to make extravagant appropriations. The articles in the Denver dailies however had their effect as the house went into a secret session on expenditures yesterday morning. It is said there will be a reduction. The News gave the following details of the robbing of the state that has been.

There are 75 members of the present legislature and they have 110 assistants, all drawing pay from the state treasury. It is the opinion of intelligent men, familiar with the work of legislation, that all the work could be done by forty assistants as well as by 110. If this is true the legislature is wantonly squandering $300 per day for needless assistants. This amounts to $27,000 for the session of 90 days.

On Tuesday evening the jug-handled committee appointed to investigate the late senatorial election, met and appointed a special sergeant-at-arms and a clerk, although there is nothing for either of these superfluous employes to do. The regular sergeants-at-arms could do whatever work may be necessary without extra cost to the state, and each of the five republican members of the committee has at least one clerk, who is now paid $5 per day for doing practically nothing.

The Woman Movement.

Justice is on the side of woman suffrage. [William H. Seward.

All I have done for negro suffrage I will do for woman suffrage. [Henry Wilson.

In the progress of civilization, woman suffrage is sure to come. [Charles Sumner.

I think there will be no end to the good that will come by woman's suffrage on the elected, on elections, on government, and on woman herself. [Chief Justice Chase.

In the administration of a state, neither a woman as a woman nor a man as a man has any special function, but the gifts are equally diffused in both sexes.—[Plato.

In view of the terrible corruption of our politics, people ask, can we maintain universal suffrage? I say no, not without the aid of woman. [Bishop Gilbert Haven.

Women have quite as much interest in good government as men, and I have never heard any satisfactory reason for excluding them from the ballot box. [George William Curtis.

I fully believe that the time has come when the ballot should be given to woman. Both her intelligence and conscience would lead her to vote on the side of justice and pure morals. [Bishop Hurst.

Every argument that could be adduced to prove that males should have the right to vote applies with equal force to prove that females should have the same right. [The Hon. Benjamin F. Wade.

The correct principle is that women are not only justified, but exhibit the most exalted virtue, when they enter on the concerns of their country, of humanity and of their God. [John Quincy Adams.

Those who are ruled by law should have the power to say what shall be the laws, and who the law-makers. Women are as much interested in legislation as men, and are entitled to representation. [William Lloyd Garrison.

When you were weak and I was strong, I toiled for you. Now you are strong and I am weak. Because of my work for you, I ask your aid. I ask the ballot for myself and my sex. As I stood by you, I pray you stand by me and mine. [Clara Barton to the Soldiers.

Laugh as we may, put it aside as a jest if we will, keep it out of congress or political campaigns, still, the woman question is rising in our horizon larger than the size of a man's hand; and some solution, ere long, that question must find. [James A. Garfield.

I take it America never gave any better principle to the world than the safety of letting every human being have the power of protection in its own hands. I claim it for woman. The moment she has the ballot, I shall think the case is won. [Wendell Phillips.

For over forty years I have not hesitated to declare my conviction that justice and fair dealing, and the democratic principles of our government, demand equal rights and privileges of citizenship, irrespective of sex. I have not been able to see any good reasons for denying the ballot to women. [John G. Whittier.

Voting would increase the intelligence of women and be a powerful stimulus to female education. It would enable women to protect their own industrial, social, moral, and educational rights. * * * Woman's vote would be to the vices in our great cities what the lightning is to the oak. * * * I believe that this reform is coming, and that it will come to stay. [Joseph Cook.

It is very cheap wit that finds it so droll that a woman should vote. * * * If the wants, the passions, the vices are allowed a full vote, through the hands of a half-brutal, intemperate population, I think it but fair that the virtues, the aspirations, should be allowed a full voice as an offset, through the purest of the people.—[Ralph Waldo Emerson.

When we seriously attempt to show that a woman who pays taxes ought not to have a voice in the manner in which the taxes are expended, that a woman whose property and liberty and person are controlled by the laws should have no voice in framing those laws, it is not easy. If women are fit to rule in monarchies, it is difficult to say why they are not qualified to vote in a republic. [Hon. H. B. Anthony, R. I.

Suppose, for the sake of argument, we accept the inequality of the sexes as one of nature's immutable laws; call it a fact that women are inferior to men in mind, morals and physique. Why should this settle or materially affect the subject of so-called woman's rights? Would not this very inferiority be a reason why every advantage should be given the weaker sex, not only for its own good but for the highest development of the race?—[Huxley.

One principal cause of the failure of many magnificent schemes, social, political, religious, which have followed each other age after age, has been this; that in almost every case they have ignored the rights and powers of one-half the human race viz, women. I believe that politics will not go right, that society will not go right, that religion will not go right, that nothing human will go right, except in so far as woman goes right; and to make woman go right she must be put in her place, and she must have her rights.—[Charles Kingsley.

The Donna's Letter.

DENVER, March 7. In Justice Sopris' court this morning the case against Mrs. W. B. Daniels (Donna Madixxa) for sending a threatening letter was called. After hearing the evidence the justice held Mrs. Daniels to appear in the criminal court in the sum of $1000. The following is the letter, for sending which the action was brought:

Mr. Daniels.

I have this moment heard that you have contemplated or already have made defamatory statements about me. You know, and I know, that you know that they are false and are made for the sole purpose of shielding yourself from the consequences of the many wrongs I now suffer at your hands. If such statements have been or shall be made by you or through your agency, as there is a God above I will kill you the first time I meet you.

Pleuro-Pneumonia Among Cattle.

ST. LOUIS, March 7.—Advices from Fulton, Mo., state that pleuro-pneumonia has developed in a herd of Jersey cattle belonging to the state lunatic asylum at that place and that eight cows have died within a month and others are sick. The infection was communicated by a bull purchased last July from S. S. Trip of Peoria, Ills. As soon as an animal was known to be infected it was isolated from the herd, but the contagion had spread with the above result. Dr. Trumbower of the agricultural department at Washington has been at Fulton several days. He made a thorough examination of the herds and declares the disease pleuro-pneumonia and advises killing the entire herd.

Danger of a Great Strike.

MONONGAHELA CITY, March 7. A river coal miners' convention was held here to-day. After a lengthy session it was resolved to demand three cents a bushel on the 9th inst., and if the advance is refused to strike. Thirty delegates, representing nearly every pit in the Monongahela valley, were present. The convention was very harmonious. Indications point to a general strike along the rivers and railroads on Monday as the operators positively assert that they cannot and will not give more than 2½ cents per bushel. About 8,000 men will be affected by the strike.

Railroad Rates to the Fair.

NEW ORLEANS, March 7. E. P. Wilson, chairman of the executive committee of general passenger agents, wired Director General Burke of the exposition from Cincinnati as follows: "All roads have conformed to your wishes, and from Quebec to Portland, Oregon, and all intermediate points, excursion tickets to New Orleans and return are available at rates of one cent per mile or less. The railroads have certainly responded liberally and you have done nobly. It now devolves upon the people to show their public spirit and appreciation thereof."

Sullivan and Ryan.

NEW YORK, March 7. Sullivan has accepted Paddy Ryan's challenge. The fight will be with small gloves under the new London prize ring rules for from $200 to $500 a side and the championship of the world. Ryan was telegraphed to-day at Chicago that five hundred dollars was posted on behalf of Sullivan, to prove that only business is intended, and that Ryan or his backers will be met in New York Monday to arrange a match.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES.

Indications for Colorado Fair, warmer weather.

Augustus J. Dick, the New York publisher, has assigned.

One hundred and forty-two deaths occurred in New York from pneumonia last week.

General Grant slept well Friday night. He was suffering less pain than usual yesterday but no material change can be reported.

Ed Welker, a young man 21 years old, committed suicide yesterday in the office of his brother, Dr. F. O. Welker, in the Union block, Denver.

An epidemic of measles has spread over all quarters, high and low, of Montreal. Schools without distinction have been decimated of their scholars. If the disease is not soon arrested they will be closed. Adults have been affected in a number of instances.

Henry Sense, a Chicago bricklayer who had quarreled with his wife and had departed from home, went into a yard on Augusta street yesterday forenoon where she was hanging clothes, shot at her twice with a revolver, mortally wounding her, and then killed himself.

A PRIZE. Send six cents for postage and receive a costly box of goods which will help all, of either sex, to more money right away than anything else in this world. Fortunes await the workers absolutely sure. At once address TRUE & CO., Augusta, Maine. wo-15-1y

THE RELIGIOUS WORLD.

Notes and Comments.

The new life of George Eliot furnishes interesting material for the study of her personal religious history. In her girlhood it would appear she was narrowly pious. She doubts the propriety of attending an oratorio; she writes vigorously against novel-reading. Hannah More's Letters, Young's Infidel Reclaimed and The Oxford Traits are her favorite books At school she gets the other girls to gather for prayer. "I do not deby," she writes at eighteen, "that there may be many who can partake with a high degree of zest of all the lawful enjoyments the world can offer and yet live in near communion with their God, who can warmly love the creature and yet be careful that the Creator maintains his supremacy in their hearts; but I confess that in my short and narrow sphere of action I have never been able to do this. I find, as Dr. Johnson said respecting his wine, total abstinence much easier than moderation." Three years later she abandons historical Christianity altogether, ceases attendance upon church, and in a word becomes a pronounced skeptic. In 1854 she became the quasi wife of George H. Lewes, who had a wife living from whom he could not, according to the laws of England, obtain a divorce. Mr. Lewes was a philosopher of the positivist school, and his influence over her confirmed her in agnosticism It is a singular psychological fact that Adam Bede was written by one who at the time of writing believed neither in Bible, Christ, immortality, prayer or a personal God.

George Eliot's religion was what has been styled the religion of humanity. She tried to keep the second commandment: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, disassociating from it and rejecting what Jesus declares to be the first and great commandment: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and soul and mind and strength. The only religious responsibility which she recognizes is "a deeply awing sense of responsibility to men." "My books," she writes, "have for their main bearing a conclusion the opposite of that in which your studies seem to have painfully imprisoned you—a conclusion without which I could not have cared to write any representation of human life, viz: that the fellowship between man and man which has been the principle of development, social and moral, is not dependent on conceptions of what is not man; and that the idea of God, so far as it has been a high spiritual influence, is the ideal of a goodness entirely human, i. e., an exaltation of the human."

One feels in reading this biography that George Eliot's intellectual processes and conclusions were at war with the impulses of her heart. She is the most conspicuous representative of a small class of women in the 17th century who, unable to solve the problems of the unwise, declare themselves agnostic; yet hunger all the while with a woman's hunger for a person to trust and love and serve.

She writes while engaged in translating Strauss' life of Jesus, "It makes me ill dissecting the beautiful story of the crucifixion, and only the sight of the Christ image and picture (kept over her desk) makes me endure it." In 1878, forty years afterward, she writes: "Every community met to worship the highest good (which is understood to be expressed by God) carries me along in its main current; and if there were not reasons against my following such an inclination I should go to church or chapel evidently for the sake of the delightful emotions of fellowship which come over me in religious assemblies." Her biographer, Mr. Cross, writes of the last years of her life, "We generally began our reading at Witley with some chapters of the Bible which was a very precious and sacred book to her, not only from early associations but also from the profound conviction of its importance in the development of the religious life of man. She particularly enjoyed reading aloud some of the finest chapters of Isaiah, Jeremiah and St. Paul's epistles.

One of her favorite works of devotion is said to have been Thomas a Kempis' Imitation of Christ.

The revised version of the Old Testament will appear at Easter. "There is much greater room for improvement in the Old Testament than in the new," says a writer in the Advance, "and the changes will be proportionately greater. This is especially the case in the poetical books, which, beginning with Job, comprise nearly all the remainder of the volume. The common version of these is in numerous cases not only faulty, but even blind, and incapable of being understood by the common reader, or indeed by any reader. As a specimen of this, Job xxxvi: 33, may serve: "The noise thereof showeth concerning it, the cattle also concerning the vapor," for which we should read: "His thunder maketh him known, yea, to the herds, as he ascendeth on high." Only one who has read through the poetical books of the Old Testament in an accurate translation, like that of the late Prof. Noyes, of Harvard, can appreciate the fresh luminousness which the forthcoming revision may be expected to give them."

Concerning our college under date of January 30, 1885, ex-President Mark Hopkins of Williams college the widely-known and revered instructor of President Garfield writes: "It seems to me that no western institution has stronger claims upon the sympathy and support of the philanthropist, the statesman and the Christian," and under date of February 10, 1885, the poet Whittier writes: "Knowing something of the educational needs of the region known as Colorado, New Mexico and Utah, I regard Colorado college as well worthy of generous aid in this section, especially in view of its present financial embarrassment, and I hope the effort now being made by Professor Marden will meet with a prompt response."

Professor Marden writes that the success of the subscription set on foot here is helping him greatly in his work of soliciting funds at the east.

INFORMATION FOR STRANGERS

Concerning the Two Great Resorts of the Rocky Mountains.

COLORADO SPRINGS

Located on the line of the Denver & Rio Grande railway, seventy-five miles south of Denver, is the city of Colorado Springs with a population of 6,000 people and universally conceded to be the handsomest and most modern city in the west The town was established in 1871 by a company of Philadelphia gentlemen who from the very outset conceived the idea of making it the model city of all the Rocky mountain region. From the time of its founding up to the present it has had remarkable growth and to-day fully represents in every respect what its projectors anticipated of it. The location of the city is an admirable one situated as it is, directly at the base of Pike's Peak and at an altitude of 6,000 feet above the level of the sea. To borrow the expression of a well known writer, "neither nature nor art could design or lay out a more finished or beautiful spot." To the right and left of the peak which rears its snow-capped summit to an altitude of 14,000 feet extends a long range of mountains "diversified with variety of form and outline, with rocky crags and tumbled boulders, with constant play of light and shadow, with contrast of rich and sombre colors with streaks of snow and dark groves of pine," the whole forming a panorama of exceeding beauty of which the eye never tires. On the north extends a ridge of hills called the divide and to the south and east as far as the eye can see stretch the great plains so common to Colorado, which afford grazing to thousands of sheep and cattle The city covers an area three miles in length by two miles in width and is laid out in blocks 400 feet square. The streets and avenues are from 100 to 140 feet in width and lined upon either side by rows of flourishing cottonwood trees which were planted when the city was founded. These trees are watered by a system of irrigation ditches which also by means of feeders keep the lawns green and make the gardens productive. The central portion of the city is built up with substantial business blocks many of which have been erected within the past two or three years. There are many fine stone residences in the city costing from $10,000 to $40,000, but the most of the houses are of wood and of all styles and varieties of modern architecture. They are all set well back from the street and surrounded by handsome and well cared for lawns. As a place of residence Colorado Springs offers many superior advantages.

Climate One of the most important features that Colorado Springs has to offer especially to invalids is its dry weather and clear atmosphere. For weeks and months at a time there will be clear sunlight and not a cloud in the sky. During the summer months there are light showers frequently day after day, but as a rule no heavy or prolonged storms. There is no really disagreeable weather only during the months of March and April, when wind and snow storms are frequently experienced. Little if any snow falls during the winter months, and although the thermometer occasionally falls below zero, the sun during the greater part of the day is warm and the weather mild. In the summer, while it is sometimes hot but not oppressive in the day time, the nights are always cool and comfortable Bounded as it is on the west by the mountains and on the north by the Divide, the city is protected from the severe wind storms which are so prevalent in other cities of the state. On account of its climate Colorado Springs ranks high as a resort for those afflicted with pulmonary troubles, and thousands who have been sent here by the leading physicians of the east have been temporarily relieved or permanently cured. It has been fully demonstrated that the city is in every respect as good a winter as it is a summer resort. Many people after having tried the climate of the southern states and California have found permanent relief in Colorado Springs, owing more especially to its mild and bracing air.

Educational Advantages Colorado Springs possesses educational advantages equal if not superior to those offered by many of the larger cities of the east. There are in the city four public school buildings which have cost between $50,000 and $60,000. One, a handsome brick building, has just been completed. These schools are well graded and in charge of competent teachers, mostly graduates of western normal schools. Those who prefer it can send their children to private schools, of which there are several very good ones. Here also is located Colorado college, one of the most complete educational institutions in Colorado if not in the west. When the town was laid out a tract of land was reserved as a site for a college. This property was granted to Colorado college at the time it was founded in 1874. Since that time a handsome stone college building has been erected and there are now in attendance over 100 students. The course of study is very similar to that of eastern colleges including, besides its four years course for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, complete preparatory and metallurgical departments, the latter including especially assaying, chemical analysis, blowpiping and determinative mineralogy. The board of instruction is excellent, and includes the president and six professors, all graduates of New England colleges except the professor of metallurgy, who is a graduate of New York University and of the Columbia School Mines.

The state institution for the education of the deaf mute and blind is also located in Colorado Springs and ranks favorably with other institutions of the kind in the eastern states.

Water Supply No city in the United States has a more complete system of water works than has Colorado Springs. The supply is conveyed through pipes seven miles, from Ruxton's creek. Purer water could not be found, as the stream from which it comes is fed by springs and the melting snows of Pike's Peak. The supply for domestic use will be adequate to the demand for some time to come, and should occasion require it could be easily increased. This same system also affords ample protection against fire, there being sufficient pressure to force a stream on the highest buildings. Hydrants are freely distributed through the city, and five well organized and efficient fire companies respond promptly to every alarm that is given.

Temperance Features The city of Colorado Springs was founded on temperance principles, and those principles are maintained to the present day. There are no saloons or bars, and, under the ordinance, liquor can only be obtained through a prescription for medicinal purposes. A clause is incorporated in every deed to property in the city which prohibits the sale of liquor thereon. In case of violation the property reverts to the original owners, the Colorado Springs company. The supreme court of the United States having decided in favor of the provision, several persons violating the clause have lost valuable properties.

Scenery and Drives—The scenery surrounding Colorado Springs embracing the mountains and the plain is grand and beautiful. Three miles from town is the wonderful and famous 'Garden of the Gods," in which huge rocks, hundreds of feet high and of the most fantastic shapes and gorgeous colors form a scene which excites the wonder of all who behold it. Close to the garden is Glen Eyrie and Queen's cañon, equally wonderful and beautiful. Five miles to the southwest of town are north and south Cheyenne cañons, both magnificent gorges with stupendous walls of rocks and beautiful water falls, giving most unrivaled grandeur. Twelve miles north is Monument park, studded with lofty groups of sand stone which look like obelisks of some by gone race of giants. Two miles to the northeast is Templeton's gap, one of the most charming and often frequented resorts in the vicinity. Five miles to the westward and at the very base of the mountains is Manitou, with its iron and soda springs and endless variety of scenery. No town in the world has in closer proximity such remarkable and magnificent scenery All the points of interest mentioned above are accessible by splendid drives equal in every respect to the macadamized streets of an eastern metropolis. There are in the city half a dozen first-class livery stables from which conveyances of any style can be obtained at very moderate prices.

Churches For a western city Colorado Springs has been appropriately named the "City of Churches" Here can be found churches of all denominations with the exception of the Unitarian, Dutch Reformed and Universalists The Methodist, Baptist and Episcopalian especially have very fine edifices All other denominations, including the Presbyterian, Catholic, M. E. South, Christian, African Methodist and Congregational have very commodious buildings and large congregations. Most of the pulpits are filled by ministers who have filled high and responsible charges at the east and have commanded handsome salaries. Members of denominations named will find congenial views and liberal thought in the social and religious life of Colorado Springs, and also in some of the pulpits.

The Antlers In the spring of 1883 The Antlers, which in point of architectural design and modern appointments excels any other hostelry in the west, was opened to the public. The building is four stories in hight, built of stone, and cost about $160,000. It is located on an open slope at the west end of Pike's Peak avenue and commands an unobstructed view of the mountains to the westward and the plains to the eastward. All of the rooms are light, well ventilated, supplied with gas and water and handsomely furnished. Since the opening in May, 1883, the hotel has had remarkable success and at the present time is occupied by over one hundred permanent guests and is continually increasing in popularity. There are also two other good hotels, the Spaulding house and Crawford, at which good accommodations can be had at from one to two dollars per day. In both of these houses can be found well furnished and commodious rooms, and substantial bills of fare.

Amusements In the way of amusements Colorado Springs does not suffer. It has an opera house modeled very much after the Madison Square theater in New York and which was erected by some of our enterprising citizens at a cost of $80,000. The house has a seating capacity of about 800, is provided with complete sets of scenery, opera chairs and all other necessary conveniences. All of the leading attractions that visit Colorado appear at Colorado Springs.

Society The social advantages of Colorado Springs are excellent and in many respects excel those of any other city of the same size on the American continent. The society is of the very best people of culture and refinement, and many possessed of much wealth have been attracted here by climate and surroundings. The residents of the city are principally from the older states of the union and from Canada, England and Scotland. There is much social life in Colorado Springs, for outside the amusements offered at the opera house, the people have to make their own society. This necessarily brings out the best social and mental qualities, and has given rise to social, literary and musical clubs and societies, and libraries and reading rooms.

General Advantages In many respects Colorado Springs is quite metropolitan It has communication with the outside world by two lines of railway—the Denver & Rio Grande and the Denver & New Orleans. Twelve trains pass north and south daily, and mails from the east, west, north and south are very frequent. There is a Central Western Union telegraph office and a telephone exchange which affords communication not only with all the leading places of business in Colorado Springs and Manitou, but also with the larger cities of the state. The merchants of the city carry large and carefully selected stocks and goods in all lines can be purchased as cheap here as in the east.

MANITOU.

Five miles west of Colorado Springs and at the very base of the mountains is located Manitou, which during the past few years has become the most famous resort in the United States. It is a small and quiet town of about five hundred inhabitants, but with its four first-class hotels and many cottages it affords during the summer months accommodations for thousands of guests from the east and south. All of the hotels are commodious, well furnished and in every respect compare well with the sea shore and mountain hotels of the east. Through the town flows the Fountain, a stream of clear and bubbling water which has its source in the mountains.

Manitou is connected with Colorado Springs by a splendid drive lined with trees which in the east might be termed a boulevard. Here is a resort of almost unequaled attractions known the world over. Thousands of guests resort here yearly from all states of the union and foreign countries, and many have located here permanently. Everything is being done to strengthen the attractive character of the spot on which nature has bestowed so many advantages. Manitou is not only a great sanitarium but also a home of refined society. During the past two years it has made remarkable progress in the way of improvements, and as a resort has not an equal in the west. "The surroundings of Manitou are particularly charming, and without its mineral springs it would be a favorite resort. Mountains, high and low, shut it closely in. Joined hand in hand like a company of eager children, they press and crowd around the lovely spot, those outside peering over the heads and shoulders of their companions. Calmly the grand old Peak looks over them all, down into the loveliest places."

Bath House Last year a bath hou was erected here at a cost of $20,000. It is fitted with every modern convenience that is conducive to health and comfort.

Rides and Drives In the immediate vicinity of Manitou are many points of interest including Ute Pass, Williams cañon, Cave of the Winds, Rainbow Falls, Crystal Park, Monument Park, Manitou Park and other points of interest too numerous to mention.

Climate Although closer to the mountains the climate of Manitou is the same as that of Colorado Springs. Invalids coming to Manitou must leave all homesickness behind and remember that they are not "out of the world," but that they will find comfort, competent physicians, good society and good living here as well as "at home." Those sick enough to need especial care should not come alone, but the moderately sick can soon find friends for themselves.

The Springs—Here are located the most famous curative springs of the country, principally soda and iron. "There are six or seven springs in all. Their Indian names and legends are all that remain to remind us of our red brothers whose offerings to the Manitou of the 'medicine waters' filled the basins of the springs and hung from the neighboring trees and bushes when the 'pale face' invaded this their favorite camping ground. The springs differ much in their properties of iron, sulphur and soda. Some of the waters are taken as a pleasant draught; others should be used only as a medicine, taken when needed and then discontinued; their temperature varies from 43° to 50° F.'

Messrs. DeCoursey & Potter, of the Colorado Springs Real Estate, Mining and Insurance agency, reported a brisk week of inquiry after city property and ranches, but few sales most of those going on record having been consummated some time ago. The number of people looking around the market both new-comers and old residents, confirm the impression that the coming season will be a brisk one in real estate. There has been some movement in what may be termed local mining shares, the past week, notably in "Old Man," whose property is showing up better and better with development. This agency makes an entire change in its advertisement on our fourth page to-day. They call particular attention to the fact that they have $5,000 to loan.

Messrs. John Curr and W. F. Wilder, the soliciting committee, say that the subscriptions for the payment of salaries due the professors of Colorado college being now in excess of three thousand dollars subscribers are respectfully requested to send the amount of their subscriptions to George H. Parsons, office of the Colorado Springs company, Strettel block, in order that distribution may be made, as there is urgent need of early relief for the professors who have labored for the past year with very little compensation. The trustees of the college earnestly desire that the subscriptions may be increased to five thousand dollars, and the work will be continued in confidence that the citizens of this vicinity will generously respond and thus secure permanence for the institution of learning planted in our midst.

MANITOU PARK!

We offer for sale the Magnificent Estate

So well known as "MANITOU PARK," consisting of ten thousand (10,000) acres of Patented land, which, from from its peculiar topographical location and surroundings controls a practically unlimited cattle range and pasture, and hundreds of acres of the finest hay land.

Parts of this estate are laid off into IMPROVED FARMS there being about 4,000 acres of farm or grass land.

The GRAZING portion of the estate, more or less wooded, comprises 6,000 acres, which is supplemented by thousands more subject to control by whoever owns the Park

A well stocked TROUT STREAM traverses the Park from north to south, about twelve miles of which are contained in the estate. This stream was stocked with the SALMO FONTINALIS, or Eastern trout in 1875-6, and these fish have taken entire possession of its waters, to the exclusion of the inferior native trout. The surrounding forests abound with DEER AND MOUNTAIN GROUSE and other game, affording unexcelled hunting grounds.

Besides the improved farms referred to, there is on the estate THE MANITOU PARK HOTEL, a very popular summer resort for our Colorado people. It is a three-story structure, solidly built of timber on a stone foundation, with stone chimneys. It contains three sitting rooms, sixteen bed rooms, a good kitchen, and servants' rooms and offices. It is appropriately furnished The range and kitchen appliances are of the best Two detached cottages, a billiard and ball room, a laundry and a ten-stall livery stable, with coach house for six carriages, form part of the establishment.

The location of the hotel is superb; the surrounding views grand, and it is the favorite summer resort of the citizens of Colorado Springs especially Included in the property is an extensive TROUT FARM and large fish ponds Here, over a magnificent spring gushing out of a limestone cliff, is a large fish hatching house. A five room house, stable, corrals, fish ponds for young fry of different sizes, and a good fenced hay meadow or pasture, complete this establishment Half a mile from the house is an artificial lake of fifteen acres, which serves as a home or haven for the larger fish to congregate in and mature. Between the big spring and the lake, the water flows through a well protected narrow valley, with willows and brushwood and beaver dams, comprising the most perfect natural surroundings for successful trout culture imaginable.

The improved farms on the estate are in excellent condition and well equipped with farm houses, stables, barns, cattle paddocks, stockyards, blacksmith shops, dairies, milking paddocks, ice houses, etc, etc. Although the RAINFALL in the Park is considerably in excess of that on the plains, several miles of canal are built to supply the necessary water for irrigation

The barriers erected by nature form sufficient obstacles against encroachment on many parts of the boundary line of the estate, but there are, besides these barriers, eleven miles of fencing, including the fencing on the improved farms.

Many thousands of dollars have been expended on the Park, and it now certainly forms a property which any man might be proud to possess, and is moreover in condition to become a paying investment for any one who will utilize for all it is worth

We offer it at a figure much within its cost, and which makes it an exceedingly cheap property.

Parties wishing a more detailed description, with a view to buying, can obtain a pamphlet descriptive of the estate by calling at our office, 104 Tejon street.

HAY & PASTURE RANCH

A tract of 1,295 acres commencing two miles from Colorado Springs—all fenced. The proximity of this ranch to town makes it a popular place for livery men and others to winter their stock on, and a good income may derived from this source.

Outside of the ranch is a good range for sheep, and it could be made a fine sheep ranch The owner has got into other business and we can offer this property at a figure which makes it, by long odds, the best bargain we know of in this particular class of property. A descriptive plat of the ranch may be seen at our office.
